The Hidden House is a modern residence by Standard located in the Mount Washington | Glassell Park neighborhood of Los Angeles

Originally commissioned to design a new home for a young family who had purchased the site, Standard found a way to maintain as much of the existing structure as possible, both minimizing code complications and the environmental footprint of the project.

"While "hidden" in the way the house is covered, it adds Standard Principal and Co-Founder Silvia Stevens Hidden House offers the ultimate cover," adds Standard Principal and Co-Founder Silvia
