The project is a revolutionary new £2.5m learning and resource centre, designed by leading sustainability architects Architype for Somerset College of Arts and Technology in Tauton, UK.

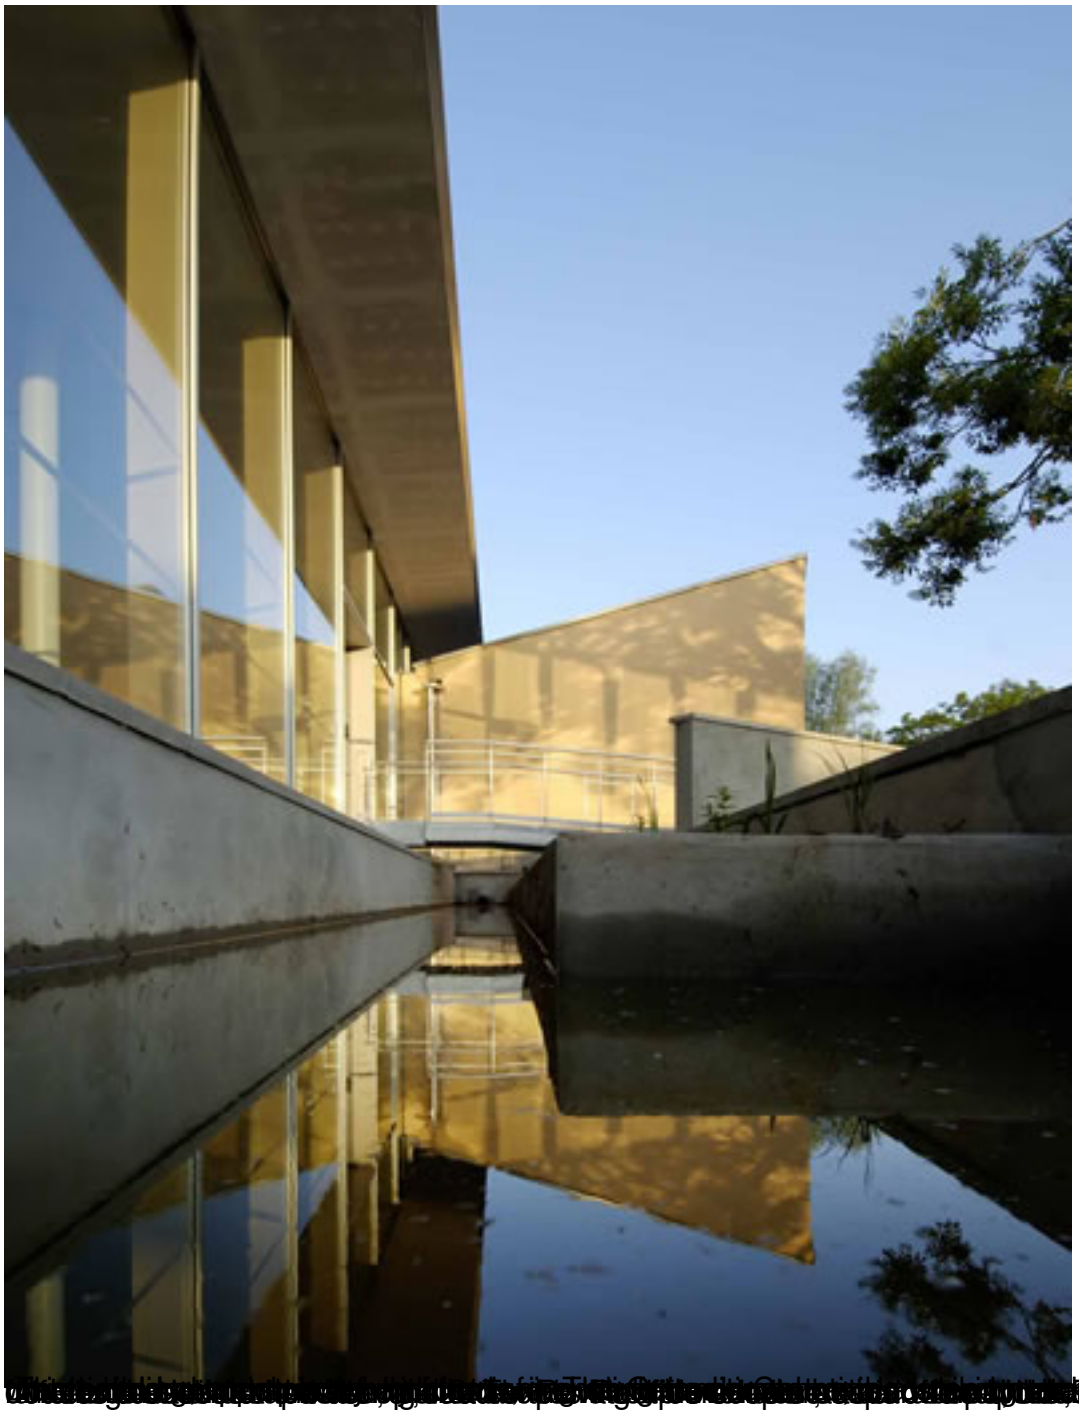
The purpose of the new Genesis Centre is to showcase a variety of techniques and materials for sustainable construction, by using them to construct the Centre and exposing them to view.



[illegible]

[redacted] Stratton & Reekie [redacted]