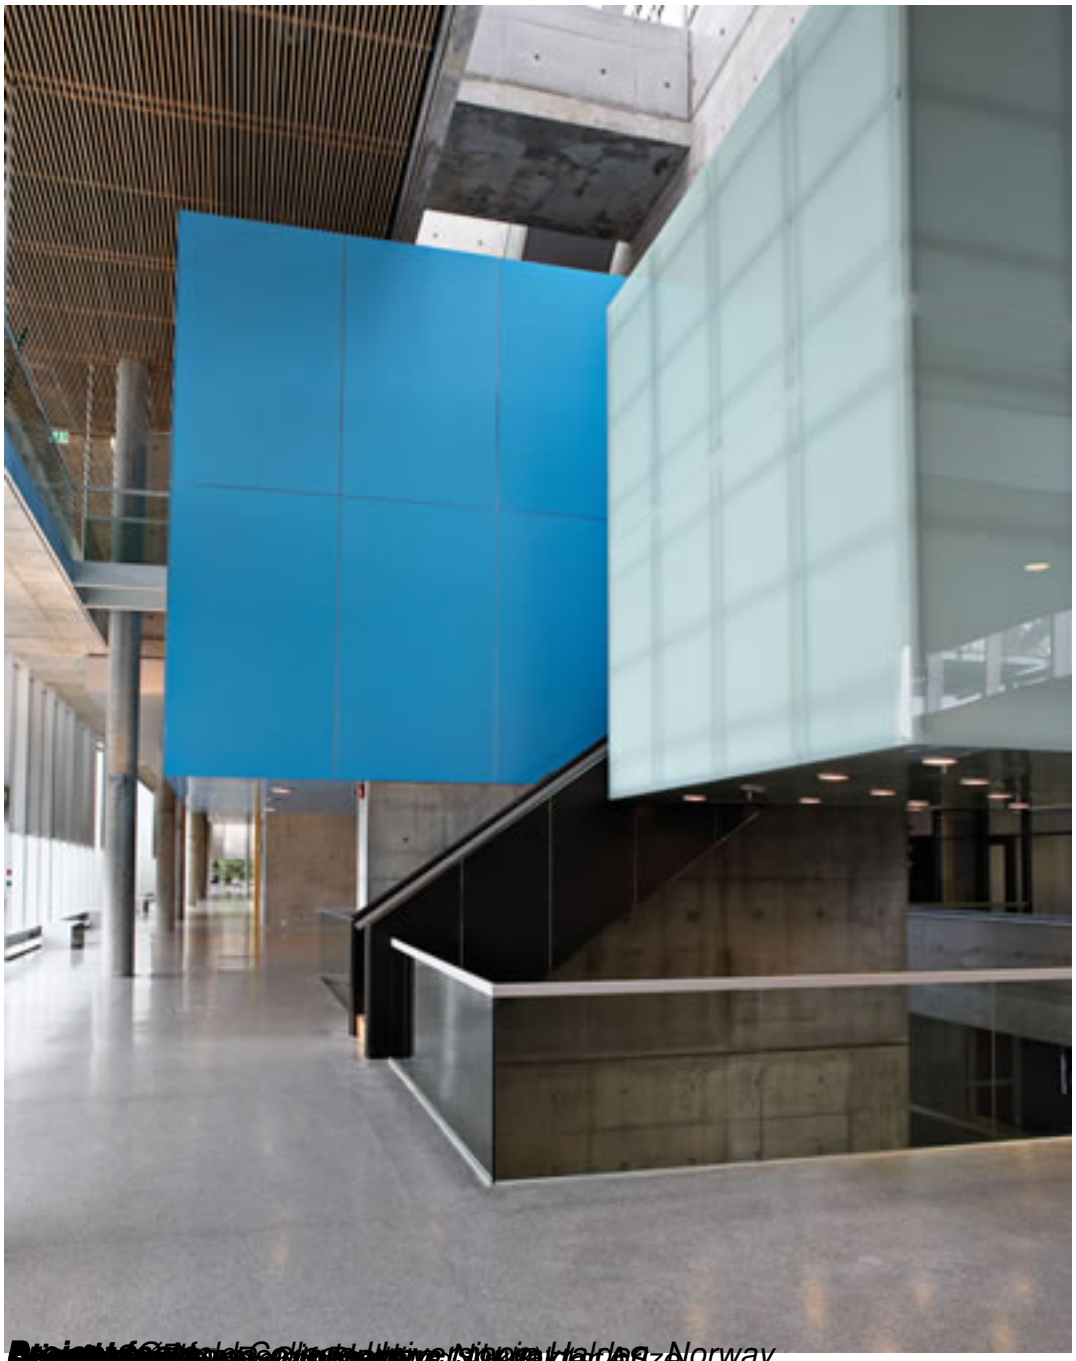
In fall of 2005 Østfold University relocated to its new premises in Halden, Norway. Central to the Architecture's strategy are the qualities of the surrounding landscape and a limited palette of materials.

The project, a close integration of new and existing buildings, emphasizes the contrast between different volumes by using simple geometrical prisms, lines and planes to form a complex matrix of functions and spaces.

[illegible] and consists of the following faculties and [illegible] to



Reiulf Ramstad Arkitekter - Østfold College University in Halden, Norway