

The client's brief was traditional in scope but vast in volume. Getting desirable sized outdoor spaces and good building orientation on a difficult triangular site was always going to be tricky.

© 2011 McBride Charles Ryan. All rights reserved. This document is the property of McBride Charles Ryan and is not to be distributed, copied, or reproduced without the written permission of McBride Charles Ryan.

Wanted to see the interior of the Cave House in Australia. The house is a modern, minimalist design with a large wooden deck and a glass wall overlooking a swimming pool.

All Photographs by John Golings, and courtesy of McBride Charles Ryan