

The project is located within walking distance of downtown Culver City, a small municipality on the west side of Los Angeles, California.

The 2-storey house is situated on a sub-standard, trapezoid-shaped 2,900 square foot (269 m2) lot and replaced an existing dilapidated house.

Upper Plan

The building is a prime example of modern architecture, featuring a prominent wooden slat facade and a large glass window. The image captures the building's corner, showcasing the intricate details of the wooden slats and the reflection of the sky on the glass. The overall aesthetic is clean and contemporary, with a focus on natural materials and geometric forms.

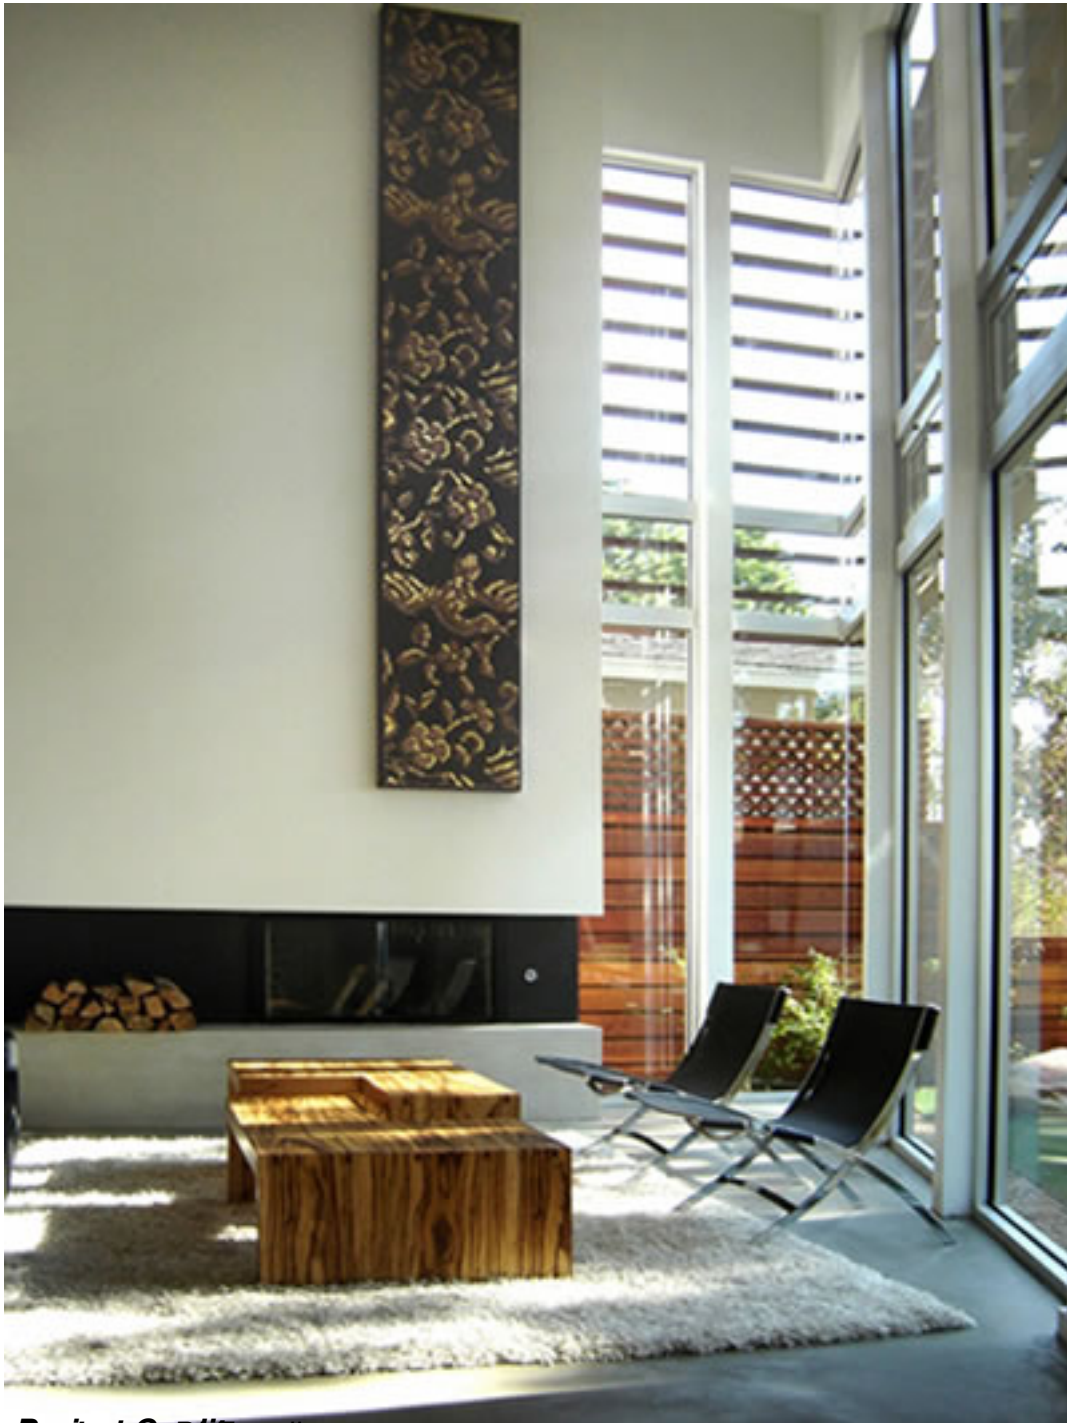

DLFstudio - Jackson House in Culver City, California

Tuesday, 18 November 2008 03:05 - Last Updated Saturday, 21 November 2009 14:19

Project Completion (Los Angeles, California).
Project completed and ready for occupancy. 2006