

Steve Hall © Hedrich Blessing

This house for a family of five explores spatial gradation from communal to private, in an urban domestic condition: children's bedrooms on the third floor lead to a collective play space for the three children, which is connected to the communal family spaces on the ground floor via a stair, skylight and aluminum screen.

The skylight serves to bring light into the center of the home; the screen acts simultaneously as guardrail and light filter.

Steve Hall © He

Steve Hall © Hedrich Blessing

Unauthorized use of this information is prohibited. All rights reserved. © 2010 Hedrich Blessing. All other trademarks are the property of their respective owners.

When you're looking for a high-end, custom kitchen, you'll want to look for a kitchen that's designed with

Photographs courtesy of Hedrich Blessing

Steve Hall © H