

After presenting the design to Egyptian Prime Minister Dr. Ahmed Nazif, Zaha Hadid Architects was announced as architects of the new Cairo Expo City. Zaha Hadid Architects will be designing Cairo Expo City together with global multi-disciplinary engineering consultancy Buro Happold.

The winning design for Cairo Expo City delivers a unique facility for Cairo – a 450,000 square metre, state of the art city for exhibitions and conferences, located between the centre of Cairo and the city's airport. The project comprises a major international exhibition and conference centre with business hotel. A further office tower and a shopping centre are also proposed.

"This is a truly national project for Egypt." said Sherif Salem, CEO of the GOIEF (General Organization of International Exhibitions and Fairs). "The current exhibition halls for Cairo do not meet the standards now required by the international conference and exhibition industry. With this exceptional design by Zaha Hadid Architects, Cairo will be among the world's top cities for conferences and fairs, able to cater for the widest variety and size of events."

Zaha Hadid Architects Win Cairo Expo City Competition

Wednesday, 10 June 2009 13:45 - Last Updated Saturday, 22 August 2009 09:46

---

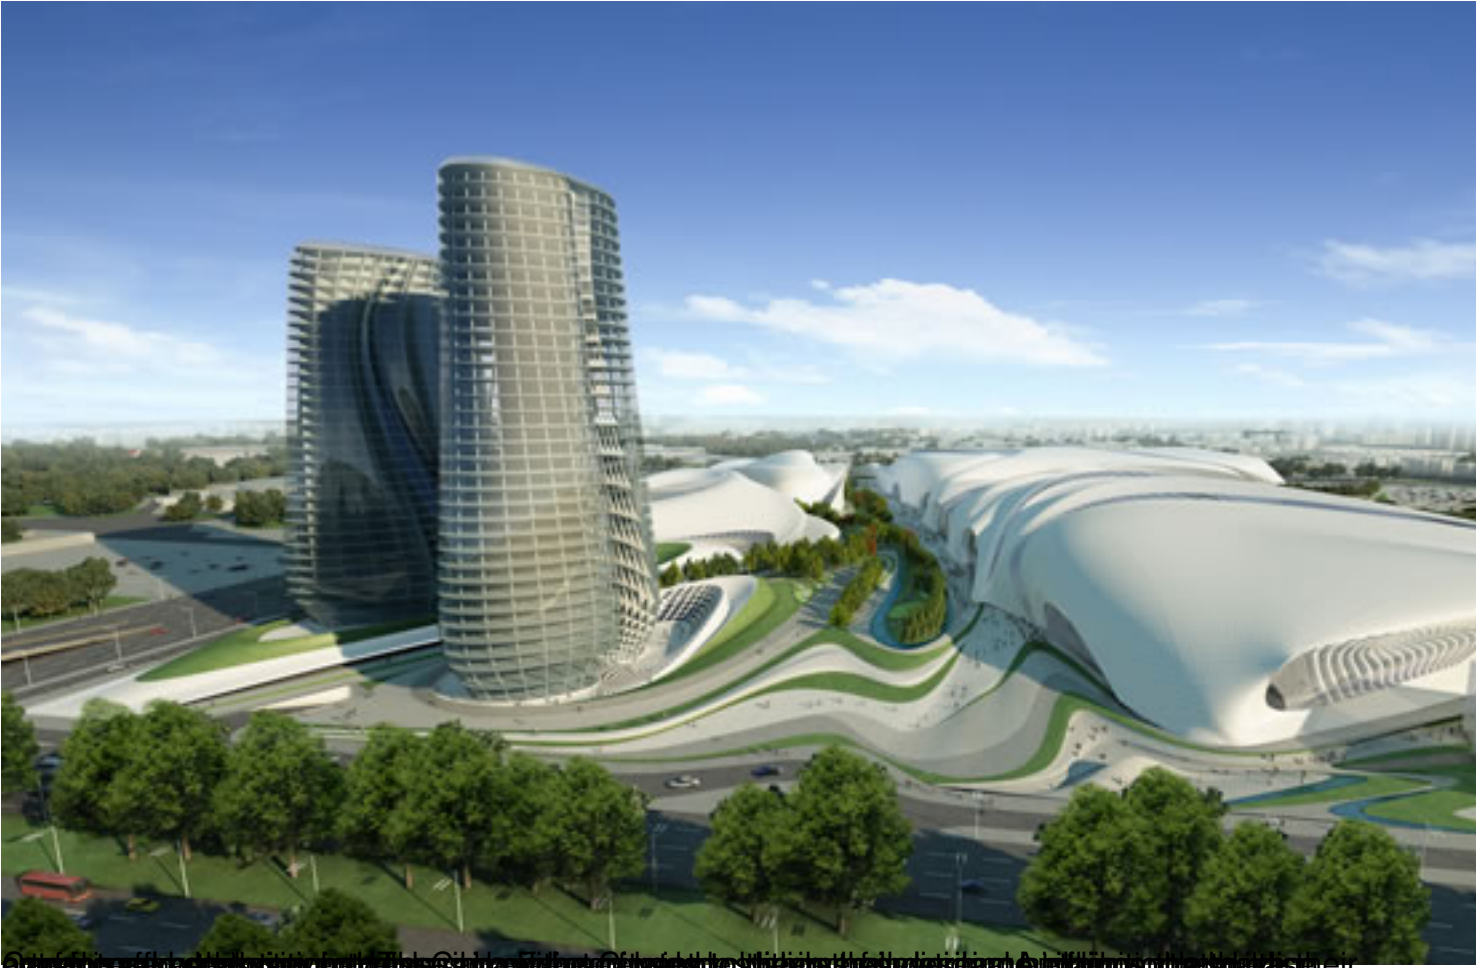

© 2009 Zaha Hadid Architects. All rights reserved. This is a conceptual rendering and not a final architectural plan.

Zaha Hadid Architects Win Cairo Expo City Competition

Wednesday, 10 June 2009 13:45 - Last Updated Saturday, 22 August 2009 09:46

---

© Zaha Hadid Architects. The Cairo Expo City is a project by Zaha Hadid Architects. The rendering shows a tall, curved glass tower and a large, white, undulating structure.

Zaha Hadid Architects Win Cairo Expo City Competition

Wednesday, 10 June 2009 13:45 - Last Updated Saturday, 22 August 2009 09:46

---

Zaha Hadid Architects was the competition winner. The firm, based in London, will begin the design and construction of the site.

Rendering of the Cairo Expo City (a 450,000-sq-metre complex of international exhibitions and fairs, Cairo)

Zaha Hadid Architects Win Cairo Expo City Competition

Wednesday, 10 June 2009 13:45 - Last Updated Saturday, 22 August 2009 09:46

---

