

Continuing our feature of the recipients of 2009 AIA Housing Awards with this project, located on a remote ranch in far West Texas in the vicinity of Big Bend National Park, 26 miles from the nearest town.

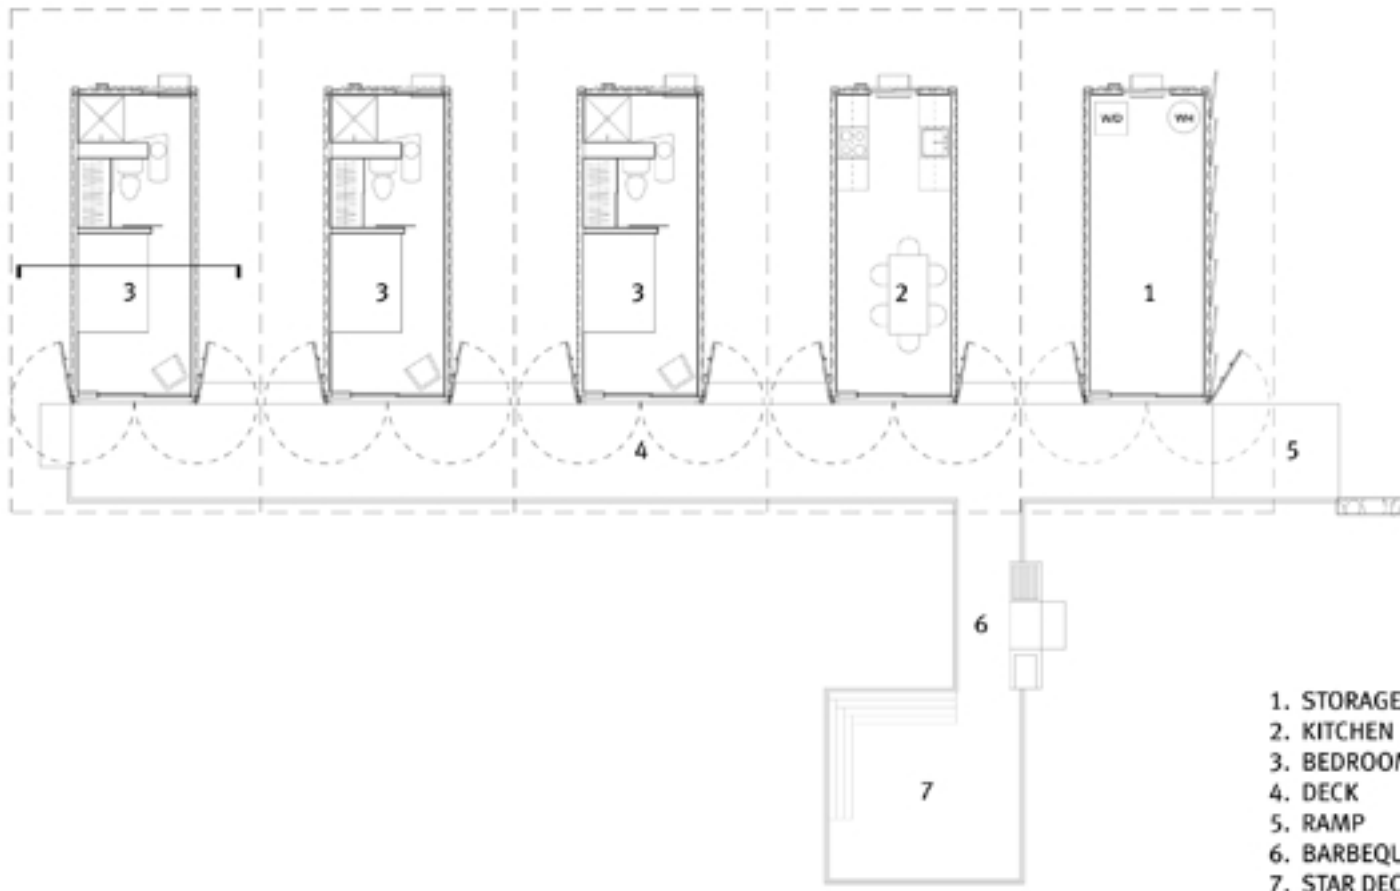

The owner desired a retreat that was economically and quickly constructed, which would cause a minimal impact on the chosen building site. Recycled shipping containers were chosen as the primary building component for their compact size and ready availability.

SITE PLAN

FLOOR PLAN

Original floor plan and site plan for the Cinco Camp in Brewster County, Texas. The site plan shows the location of the camp in relation to the surrounding area. The floor plan shows the layout of the camp, including the units, deck, ramp, barbecue, and star deck.

Photograph © H

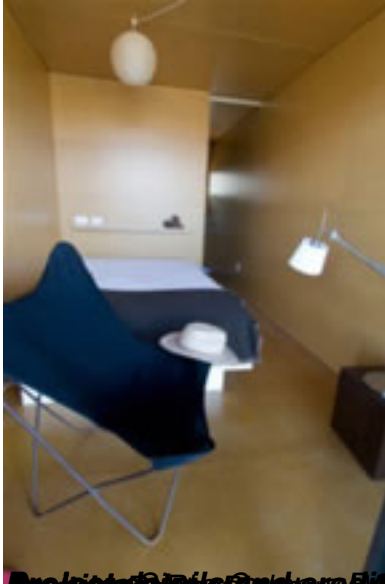

Photograph © Hester + Hardaway

The necessary things to do are all things that you can do in your own home. You need and

Photograph © H

Project © Rhotenberry Wellen Architects - Cinco Camp in Brewster County, Texas

