Although we had featured the Herring Museum of Contemporary Art, designed by Steven Holl Architects back in July of 2009, in the light of yesterday's news of the project receiving a 2010 RIBA International Award, we wanted to show some new material about the project that we have just received.

The museum unites three distinct cultural institutions: the Herring Center of the Arts, the MidWest Ensemble and the Socle du Monde.

The new centre is central to the region of central Jutland, Denmark, providing a focus for visual art and music, providing Historical front facade of the building at the Herning Museum of Contemporary Art, Denmark. The building is designed by Steven Holl Architects. The building is a modern, white, rectangular structure with a central entrance. The building is situated on a lush green lawn. A curved, light-colored concrete path leads from the foreground towards the building. In the background, there are trees and a clear blue sky with some light clouds. The overall atmosphere is serene and modern.
