

At the heart of the manicured green fairways of the Tobiano Golf Resort, the Clubhouse building is the first public intervention between the built environment and its vast arid site in the BC Interior.

A refuge from the elements, the Clubhouse establishes the architectural identity that will resonate throughout the rest of this new development. At the edge of the golf course, the Turf Care Facility continues this language, creating a cohesiveness to the emerging architectural context. Harmonizing with their environment, the buildings express themselves through the textured use of wood.

Completed in 2008, the 11,000 sq.ft Golf Clubhouse and the 9,200 sq.ft. Turf Care Facility are situated in a semi-desert landscape, with panoramic views of Kamloops Lake and the surrounding mountains.

Exterior view of the Tobiano Clubhouse & Turf Care Facility, a modern building with a large covered patio area, situated on a grassy field under a clear blue sky.

Interior view of the clubhouse dining area, showing the stone wall and the view through the large windows.

Exterior view of the clubhouse, showing the stone wall and the view through the large windows.

© a|k|a architecture + design. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system, without the prior written permission of a|k|a architecture + design.